Thank You To Our
2008 Texas Arbor Day Sponsors

The 119th Texas State Arbor Day 2008 in El Paso celebrated on Texas Arbor day – the last Friday in April. It was a wonderful event that bought the community togheter to celebrate tree planting and the benefits of trees in this desert city.

In recent years, the City of El Paso has made great gains in urban forestry. They have passed a tree ordinance, hired a urban forester and have begun systematic and scientific tree care. The 2008 Arbor Day celebration was an opportunity to take stock of these achievements and to look towards the future.

The parks department set up a great event at Veterans Park and all the local dignitaries came out.

Most of these folks have been involved in local politics, business and nonprofits to make trees a reality in the harsh desert climate.

The National Arbor Day Foundation presented the City of El Paso with the Tree City USA award for the first time and statewide utility companies were on hand to receive their Tree Line USA recognition.

The ceremony culminated with all the participants planting the ceremonial trees.

Please join me in Congratulating all those who made this years El Paso Arbor Day an award winner.
